Konkan Gyanpeeth Rahul Dharkar College of Pharmacy and Research Institute, Karjat has installed Language lab software i.e. "I-Lotus Interactive English Programme 5 levels" for the students of B. Pharmacy with the objective to improve the fluency of English language. This software will be beneficial for the students especially who are coming from rural background. This Facility is available in Computer lab. Students utilized these facilities whenever they are free by making entry in log book.

In this academic year (2020-21), as per the directives of government to prevent spread of coronavirus, institute premises were not available to the students for using this software. Alternatively, free online software's were suggested to the students for improving their English language skills.
